

The future of our skies and the use of cargo drones, air taxis and hydrogen and electric planes is still very much being discussed and planned. Through this process, you've probably thought about the topic, and the future, from a lot of different angles. What do you think should be prioritised in the next conversations?

We need more information on...

We need to resolve...

We need to hear from...

We need to involve...